Onyx Black is Face Inks' softest black that I use on my fairer and more conservative clients that want and look great in black eyeliner.

Rose Marie's' Face Inks Eyeliner Tips:

Onyx Black and Palm – Because it is so soft, I often mix it with Palm to change the blue base of black to a greenish slate shade. This is just gorgeous on brown and green eyes, especially on those with warm complexions.

Onyx Black and Purple Rain – Another combination that I love to use is Purple Rain and Onyx. I use this combo two ways:

- I mix Purple Rain right into the Onyx and place it on the skin and allow it to dry to be sure I can see the Purple Rain in there. This gives the blue base of black a purplish hue.

- Add Purple Rain to extend the eyeliner, especially on the bottom liner, with a 7-liner, 5-magnum or a 3-Slope. This combo makes brown eyes so interesting and beautiful and green eyes just dance with color.

Onyx Black and Rainforest – For my most conservative clients, I will mix Rainforest with Onyx to both lighten and soften the black even more. This changes the blue base of black to green. This combination is the perfect substitute for my clients that request brown eyeliner.
