Moccasin: a darker, warm blonde or light warm brown shade.

It is the perfect color for fair to medium skin tones, especially for Fitzpatrick 1 and 2.

Rose Marie's favorite formulas & needle tips with Face Inks Moccasin:

I am a big fan of Moccasin. I just love it straight on a Fitzpatrick 1 or 2 when I want a light Taupe shade that doesn't gray out. When I want to enhance the warm tones of Moccasin, I add ½ to 1 small drop of Butterscotch.

Strawberry Blondes/Natural Redheads with Fitzpatrick 1 -2 skin tones, I add 1 drop of Henna to Moccasin. It's gorgeous!

To darken it, especially for a darker Fitzpatrick 2 skin tone, I often mix ½ and ½ of Moccasin and Sandalwood with a small drop of Butterscotch. This darkens the Moccasin but maintains the warmth.

If you have ever trained with me, you would have heard me say that I prefer warm or neutral tones as opposed to healed cool tones in a brow. Not necessarily red but certainly golden tones. I believe this is due to my being traumatized with all of the gray eyebrows walking around.

If my client calls to tell me it's been years since they were in last and they have a warm residual, I simply tell them they are overdue for a touch up visit. A warm residual does not require a color correction. It's a simple cover-up with a taupe brow shade!!!

To achieve a taupe shade over a warm residual, I use Moccasin straight or add a drop of Bamboo Blonde. Gray eyebrows require a color correction. I prefer warmer bases to my eyebrows, especially, if my client has a warm undertone in her skin. There is nothing more unsightly than a fair, warm complexion with gray eyebrows.

There are times I want a true taupe without any warmth. Then, I tend to use Face Inks Biscotti or Bamboo blonde. If I am working on a fair, gray haired woman, I may use Biscotti straight, without any Butterscotch or mix a little Bamboo with it and very little Butterscotch. But for warmth, I reach for Moccasin.

Microblading: A great choice for blondes. Tip: Be sure to mix with a drop of Milk Chocolate to keep a softer shade.

Needle Selection:

I tend to use a 3 or 5-Slope, 3-Micro, 9-MicroStroke needle group or the 1-Nanos for my hair strokes. I will often do a fusion with the machine Nano needles and a 9-MicroStroke needle.

Sometimes, I will use a 5-Shader and achieve a powdery effect for my background and then run some hair strokes through upon her return in 6 weeks. I may darken Moccasin with a little Sandalwood for additional contrast and dimension for the hair strokes.

Perfect or practice your hair stroke technique with all of the above stated needles by simply practicing on craft foam from AC Moore or Michael's. I find it better and more realistic than any of the imitation skin that is available. Sketch out a brow and then fill it in with very slow hair strokes, one at a time, remaining in the skin (or foam) from anywhere from 5 to 10 seconds.

Remember...the slower you move, the faster you are done!
